Document Management Solutions

Document Management that supports your firm's success.

Documents drive most of the work performed by law firms. How you manage, secure and provide access to critical documents such as pleadings, contracts, leases and all client-matter work in process dictates your success. Instant access to these documents from within the office, via the web, or on a mobile device has a big impact on attorney efficiency, client satisfaction and the firm's profitability.

FileBound provides the solution to your firm's document management needs. FileBound is an affordable solution that addresses the critical areas of document filing, security, retrieval, collaboration and continuity. Successful document management systems today require the ability to accept and combine information from many sources, organize it, distribute it, and provide access security. FileBound is designed to optimize and protect information from many sources stored in different forms. These include paper files, archival box storage, document images, digital application files, computer print files, emails, faxes, web site input and others.

FileBound provides the document management solution you need to build more success into your firm. Clients today expect firms to have systems that secure sensitive documents and provide access to documents instantly from anywhere.
